Westfield Kicks Off New Arts, Music, Food Festival

Westfield, Indiana – Indiana's newest city welcomes a brand new arts, music and food festival to downtown Westfield. Numa, "a cultural celebration guaranteed to move u," kicks off its inaugural year Saturday, September 13, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. and runs from noon to 7 p.m., Sunday, September 14.

Local and national artisans, including painters, potters, sculptors and jewelers, exhibit their latest creative masterpieces and offer their work for sale at Numa's juried art show. Entertaining the crowd is a variety of local musicians and dancers, as well as a national chili cook-off competition, groovy car show and an interactive arts area for kids. Fabulous food and drink is available, including wine and beer tastings that take place all weekend thanks to local businesses.

Numa is located along Union Street, north of Indiana Highway 32 to Penn Street, just east of Westfield City Hall. Tickets are $5 and available at the festival. Children 12 and under are free. Numa is a family-friendly event, but please leave your pets at home.

For more information, log on to www.dwna.org, call Teresa Skelton at 317-508-3392 or email Numa at numaevent@comcast.net.
